

Spiritual, Moral, Social and Cultural (SMSC)

Curriculum links – History

History supports spiritual development by providing children with opportunities to reflect on their own lives and lives of the past.

By engaging in drama to portray feelings and values of great historical importance.

History supports moral development by enabling children to look, discuss and evaluate and reflect upon historical events and historical role models. Encouraging equality and diversity.

History gives children the opportunity to challenge the opinions of others and respect others view point.

By informing children of the past allows them to become responsible citizens within society and collaborate with others in discussion and research.

History supports cultural development by looking how historians from different cultures have had a significant impact globally.

It allows children access to information that allows them to discover their heritages and respect equality without compromising diversity.